

Metropolitan DDA Changes 2021-2022

Source: HUD; Novogradac

For DDAs, it should be noted that ZCTAs do NOT generally change every year, just every ten years based on decennial census, but numbering changes might occur annually to reflect very slight changes in geographic boundaries, or ZCTAs re-numbered. Therefore, when comparing the two years, 2022 to 2021, there might be DDAs gained and DDAs lost that are only due to ZCTA number changes and not necessarily DDA status gained or lost.

Also for DDAs, note that counties do NOT generally change every year, but name changes might occur if county name changes, or if city county equivalent changes to county (i.e. some small towns in Virginia are considered county equivalent and listed with town name, and have changed to counties in the past, such as Lynchburg, VA changed to Bedford County), or if switches from non-metro County to metro and then it's considered SDDA and uses ZCTAs. Therefore, when comparing the two years, 2022 to 2021, there might be DDAs gained and DDAs lost that are only due to name changes and not necessarily DDA status gained or lost, except in the case of non-metro switching to metro where it's likely that some ZCTAs will not get DDA status.

Non-Metropolitan DDA Changes 2021-2022

For DDAs, it should be noted that ZCTAs do NOT generally change every year, just every ten years based on decennial census, but numbering changes might occur annually to reflect very slight changes in geographic boundaries, or ZCTAs re-numbered. Therefore, when comparing the two years, 2022 to 2021, there might be DDAs gained and DDAs lost that are only due to ZCTA number changes and not necessarily DDA status gained or lost.

Also for DDAs, note that counties do NOT generally change every year, but name changes might occur if county name changes, or if city county equivalent changes to county (i.e. some small towns in Virginia are considered county equivalent and listed with town name, and have changed to counties in the past, such as Lynchburg, VA changed to Bedford County), or if switches from non-metro County to metro and then it's considered SDDA and uses ZCTAs. Therefore, when comparing the two years, 2022 to 2021, there might be DDAs gained and DDAs lost that are only due to name changes and not necessarily DDA status gained or lost, except in the case of non-metro switching to metro where it's likely that some ZCTAs will not get DDA status.
