

In this week's Tax Credit Tuesday podcast, Michael J. Novogradac, CPA, and Peter Lawrence, director of public policy and government relations at Novogradac, discuss year-end legislation in Congress, including a continuing resolution to fund the government into 2021 and a potential COVID-19 relief bill. They start by discussing the chances for provisions to extend or expand community development tax incentives to be included in continuing resolution legislation. Then, they talk about highlights of the latest proposed COVID-19 relief bill and the chances of community development and affordable housing provisions being attached to it. Next, they share insight into President-elect Biden's nominations to lead the Treasury and U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. They wrap up by discussing what to look out for in the weeks leading up to inauguration day for President-elect Joe Biden.

Summaries of each topic:

1. Lame-Duck Session Continuing Resolution (1:40-5:55)
2. COVID-19 Relief Legislation (5:56-11:30)
3. President-elect Biden's Cabinet Appointments (11:31-18:46)

Editorial material in this transcript is for informational purposes only and should not be construed otherwise. Advice and interpretation regarding tax credits or any other material covered in this transcript can only be obtained from your tax adviser.

© Novogradac & Company LLP, 2020. All rights reserved. Reproduction of this publication in whole or in part in any form without written permission from the publisher is prohibited by law. For reprint information, please send an email to cpas@novoco.com.

Additional Resources

Register for Novogradac news alerts

Register for the Novogradac 2021 RAD Public Housing Virtual Conference