Novogradac 2020 Investing in Puerto Rico Conference

To our valued attendees, sponsors and Novogradac community,

As the nation has been adapting over the last few weeks to promote public safety, so too has Novogradac been focusing on making targeted adjustments intended to protect the health and well-being of all those with whom we interact. As you may know, Gov. Wanda Vázquez issued a strict “stay-at-home” order for the island of Puerto Rico. Puerto Rico’s order, in concert with Novogradac’s own social distancing policies, has prompted us to rollover the Novogradac 2020 Investing in Puerto Rico Conference into the Novogradac 2021 Investing in Puerto Rico Conference we’ve planned for May 6 - May 7, 2021.

While we will not be able to meet in person this May, we continue to analyze how current events will affect the community development market. Novogradac is regularly analyzing and reporting on relevant developments and we will continue to do so between now and the Novogradac 2021 Investing in Puerto Rico Conference. We will also adapt and update our agenda to take into account the quickly shifting economic and policy terrain and to address the questions raised by this unprecedented set of circumstances. We encourage you to share with us any suggestions you have in this regard.

We believe in the importance of coming together regularly to connect with those with whom we work but don’t often see in person. We also stand firm in our commitment to being an industry knowledge leader. While we may need to defer the former goal to next year in the interest of public health, be assured that there will be no letup in our efforts towards the latter goal.

For the convenience of our registered attendees, anyone who is already registered for the event will be automatically re-registered for the next event. If you had a hotel room booked, we have also rolled over your reservation with the hotel and no further action on your part is necessary. If you will not be able to join us at the event, we will of course be disappointed, but understanding. Please see below for instructions on how to cancel for a full refund.

We remain committed to delivering the utmost value to ensure all attendees are confident that attending the event next year will be worthwhile. Once again, if you have questions or suggestions for topics that should be addressed for the Novogradac 2021 Investing in Puerto Rico Conference, we invite you to send your thoughts to events@novoco.com.

If you do elect to cancel your registration, you may do so for a full refund, by using the link in the confirmation email you received when you registered. You will also need to cancel your reservation at the hotel. You can also cancel for either a cash refund, or request a credit to use at another Novogradac event held within a year, by sending an email to events@novoco.com.

The Events Desk is available to answer any questions by email or by calling us at 415-356-7970.

We look forward to seeing you, albeit later than originally planned, in Puerto Rico.
