RE: 2010 Qualified Allocation Plan Forum

As it prepares for this year's Low-Income Housing Tax Credit funding round, the Louisiana Housing Finance Agency would like to invite you to participate in a forum to discuss the 2010 Qualified Allocation Plan.

The QAP is a valuable document that helps guide the production of affordable housing in this state. We value your input and look forward to your assistance in crafting this plan. This forum will be a step in the process that will also include a formal public comment period in the future before the plan is presented to the LHFA Board of Commissioners for final ratification.

The LHFA will be holding two of these forums, as part of our continued efforts to reach out to our housing partners across the state. You are welcome to attend the meeting closest to you, or both. No RSVP will be required. The details for the meetings are below. We look forward to your comments and participation.
