“CAPACITY STATEMENT”

*NOTICE TO TAX CREDIT DEVELOPERS SUBMITTING APPLICATIONS TO THE
MISSISSIPPI HOME CORPORATION (MHC)
UNDER THE 2007/2008 QAP*

Due to the increased tax credits available to Mississippi as authorized by the Gulf Opportunity Zone Act of 2005, MHC anticipates a substantial increase in the number of units proposed by developers. MHC is aware that sub-contractors and workers are limited due to the increased construction activity within the “GO Zone”. Developers’ should be aware that the “GO Zone” tax credits are not eligible to be carried forward. Of concern to MHC is the capacity of the developer, if awarded tax credits, to complete the development(s), in a timely manner, meeting the quality and standards required by the QAP and upon which the application was scored and subsequently awarded tax credits.

Therefore, MHC is requiring that the developer include, with each tax credit application submitted, a “Capacity Statement”, of one page or less, that defines:

- (1) the developer’s construction capacity(ies),
- (2) the ability to complete any development awarded 2007/2008 tax credits within the timelines of the 2007/2008 QAP, and
- (3) the ability to complete any prior year awarded tax credit developments within the timelines of the appropriate year’s QAP.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

INTRODUCTION

The Mississippi Home Corporation (the "Corporation" or "MHC") is charged with the responsibility of administering the Housing Tax Credit Program (the "Tax Credits", "Housing Credit" or the "Tax Credit Program"), which was created by Congress in the Tax Reform Act of 1986, and which has been further amended by acts of Congress and amendments to Section 42, as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Code requires the Corporation to develop a qualified allocation plan (i) which shall set forth the selection criteria to be used to determine housing priorities of the State of Mississippi that are appropriate to local conditions; (ii) which also gives preference in allocating housing credit dollar amounts among selected developments that (a) serve the lowest income tenants, and (b) obligate to serve qualified tenants for the longest period; and (iii) which provide a procedure that the Corporation (or an agent or other private contractor of the Corporation) will follow in monitoring for noncompliance and in notifying the Internal Revenue Service of such noncompliance. The selection criteria set forth in a qualified allocation plan must include: (i) development location, (ii) housing need characteristics, (iii) development characteristics, (iv) sponsor characteristics, (v) tenant populations with special housing needs, and (vi) public housing waiting lists. The Code also requires that the qualified allocation plan be subject to public review in accordance with rules similar to those in Section 147(f) (2) of the Code.

The delegation of authority to the states to administer the Tax Credit Program, a tax incentive program, is unique and unprecedented. However, the delegation is limited. While recognizing the value of decentralized decision making, Congress also imposed a uniform set of procedures each state must follow in administering the Tax Credit Program. These procedures are designed to ensure that the low-income renters, whom the program is intended to benefit, are those actually served. These procedures are also designed to make certain that the Tax Credit is rationed in the amount necessary to make each development feasible and viable, taking into account all sources of funding.

In December 1997, the National Council of State Housing Agencies ("NCSHA") established a Task Force of Executive Directors of agencies with the responsibility for the Tax Credit Program in twenty (20) states to develop Best Practice Standards for State Housing Credit administration which responds to the suggestions the General Accounting Office (GAO) and the Ways and Means Oversight Subcommittee as well as other participants in the Housing Credit Community have made.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

The concerns include:

- The adequacy of housing needs assessments;
- The need for property market studies;
- Appropriate use of state agency discretion in allocating Credits;
- The need for independent, third party cost certifications;
- The adequacy of debt service ratios;
- Operating and replacement reserves;
- Operating expenses;
- Quality of management experience; and
- Adequacy of compliance safeguards.

On October 10, 1998, NCSHA adopted the Task Force's fifteen (15) recommended minimum standards for allocation and underwriting of housing credit agencies. If in the future Congress considers legislation in these areas, these standards will provide guidance.

State legislation requires the Corporation to develop an annual housing plan detailing the housing needs of the State. Based upon any such housing needs study and other available information and data, the Qualified Allocation Plan has been designed to address the most pressing housing needs of the State. To assess Mississippi's overall housing needs, the Corporation has relied on the work of the Mississippi Housing Task Force (the "Task Force"), data compiled for the Target Area Designation Statistical Analysis and Report, the State of Mississippi Consolidated Plan, and available census data.

On August 25, 2006 in Jackson and August 28 in Biloxi, the Corporation, acting pursuant to statutory requirements, held a public hearing for the purpose of receiving comments on a draft of Mississippi's 2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan (QAP). In addition to oral comments received at the hearing, the Corporation requested written comments from interested members of the public concerning the draft QAP. Both the oral and written comments received were considered and fully evaluated prior to the Corporation's approval of the 2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan. The 2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan was presented to the Governor of the State of Mississippi, who formally approved its terms by Resolution received by the Corporation on September 27, 2006.

TAX EXEMPT BONDS

Developments financed with certain tax-exempt bonds are eligible for tax credits without receiving a state allocation. Tax-exempt bond developments include developments financed with exempt facility bonds that are used for qualified residential developments. If fifty percent (50%) or more of a development's basis (total development cost including land) is financed with tax-exempt financing, one hundred percent (100%) of the development qualifies for the tax credit without any decrease in the state's allocation.

Although these bond-financed developments are not required to receive tax credit allocations from the state, the development must satisfy the requirements for an allocation of tax credits under this qualified allocation plan. The development must also commit to a thirty (30) year extended low-income use on the portion supported by tax credits. Bond-financed developments will be reviewed for feasibility and threshold requirements under this allocation plan. However, they will not be required to meet the minimum point threshold nor the ten percent (10%) requirements for a carryover allocation of Tax Credits if the development will not be placed in service by the close of the credit allocation year. In addition, Tax-Exempt Bond deals may not be subject to the same underwriting restrictions as proposed competitive tax credit developments.

An opinion letter from a Certified Public Accountant must accompany the application to certify that fifty percent (50%) or greater of aggregate basis will be financed by tax-exempt bonds. Tax-exempt bond applications should be submitted at least sixty (60) days prior to the scheduled closing on the bonds.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

*REVIEW PROCEDURE

The Corporation will first review each application submitted for its points score under the Selection Criteria, and subsequently, for those that have scored within funding range, for compliance with the Threshold Requirements.

THRESHOLD FACTORS

This section of the Qualified Allocation Plan identifies those requirements (the "threshold factors") that each development must meet in order to be eligible for consideration of a tax credit award of either ACA or GO Zone tax credit authority.

The Corporation shall only review application packages that satisfy the minimum scoring threshold of at least ninety-two (92) points for new construction developments and at least eighty (80) points for preservation developments for assurances that the applicant has satisfied these threshold requirements. If the applicant fails to satisfy the threshold requirements, the development will not be eligible for an allocation of tax credits. The five threshold factors are as follows:

1. Site Control (At least one must be met with evidence provided with application).
  - Fee simple ownership of the proposed development site by the applicant, by one or more persons or entities having ownership interests in the applicant, or by one or more entities within the control of the applicant or the above-described persons.
  - Lease of the proposed site development by the applicant or by the above described persons or entities for a term meeting or exceeding the 30-year compliance period or for such longer period as the applicant represents in the application that the development will be held for occupancy by low income persons and families.
  - Right to acquire or lease the proposed site development pursuant to a valid and binding option or contract between the applicant or the above described persons or entities and the fee simple owner of the site, provided that such option or contract shall have no conditions within the discretion or control of the owner of the site.
  - For acquisition and rehabilitation properties that are federally assisted and require a transfer of physical assets approval, documentation must accompany the application showing that a transfer request has been approved by Rural Development (RD) or Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in order to have a valid option/purchase contract. The only allowable condition to obtaining such transfer approval will be obtaining housing tax credits.

For RD transfer properties, loan transfers/assumptions shall be evidenced by approval on Form RD 3560-1 (Rev. 02/05), "Application for Partial Release, Subordination or Consent" executed by the State Director or the Multi-Family Housing Program Director or their designee as evidence of final approval.

The owner listed in the application must be listed as the purchaser in the option/applicable site control and listed in the partnership agreement. The option must be good for a total of one hundred eighty (180) days from the last day of the application cycle. Applications that are carried forward to a subsequent cycle must provide additional documentation to satisfy this requirement.

Additionally, site control documentation must clearly identify the physical location of the property (i.e. property address, full legal description or plat map identifying street names) and be consistent with the development information provided on the application form. The seller must be identifiable in any option agreement as shown on the application form.

2. Local Zoning and Development Conditions (At least one must be met).

- Evidence of proper zoning or building permits for the proposed development.
- In the event that zoning and permitting requirements are not applicable to the site of the proposed development, (i) a letter from the local authorities to that effect and (ii) evidence satisfactory to the Corporation of the availability of all requisite public utilities for the proposed development.
- For existing developments, an applicant may submit evidence of a building permit issuance or current documentation from the local authority indicating that building permits are not required in lieu of zoning documentation.

The proposed development must be identified as zoned for its intended use as multifamily or single family housing. Documentation must be provided from the local governing authority where the proposed development will be located and dated within one (1) year of the date the application is submitted to MHC. The documentation must include the development's name, physical location (i.e. street address or nearest intersection), intended use, zoning code and description of what the zoning allows. All information must be consistent with the development information provided on the application form.

3. Documentation of Need

An independent, third party, recent market study from an individual or entity qualified to prepare such market study documenting need that includes the following items:

- Problem Definition
- Market Area Definition
- Physical/Location Analysis
- Economic Analysis
- Demographic Analysis
- Supply Analysis
- Demand Analysis
- Reconciliation of Supply and Demand
- Identify all housing tax credit developments approved within the previous five years of the study available on the Corporation's website at www.mshomecorp.com, and those currently under construction in the market area, and describe those developments' rent levels and lease up experiences.

Please refer to the market study guide in this section for an explanation of the above-referenced items and the checklist that will be used to determine if the minimum standards have been met. The market study must be recent (no more than one year old from the date of the application) and must support the number of units identified in application.

All applications must contain an independent third party market study. The market study shall provide consideration as to the total number of units the market will absorb should other developments be awarded tax credits in the same market area. All applications must also contain a statement of acceptance from the participating syndicator indicating that the market study submitted with the application is acceptable for the proposed market area should the development receive an allocation of tax credits (see Attachment 12). Applicants are not prohibited from changing syndicators; however, a new statement of acceptance will be required from the subsequent syndicator in the event of a change from the initial application.

4. Permanent Financing Commitment (At least one must be met)

- Issuance of a loan commitment or commitments to provide permanent financing for the proposed development without any material conditions for a term of fifteen (15) years or more.

Applicants that anticipate receiving an award of other funding sources, such as HOME or Federal Home Loan Bank funds, must provide evidence that they have applied for such funding, including acknowledgement from the funding entity that the application has been received and of the amount requested.

Evidence of the award of any of these Additional Sources of Funding must be provided to the Corporation no later than the due date set out in the reservation package notifying the applicant of an award of Housing Tax Credits.

With the exception of the above three paragraphs, to be considered a firm commitment, the document must contain the term(s), conditions, interest rate, disbursement conditions, security requirements, repayment provisions, and be executed by the applicant and the lender. The commitment letter must contain the verbiage, "this is a firm commitment for construction/permanent financing of the referenced development". Only conditions as noted above will be acceptable as conditions contained in the commitment letter. All other conditions must receive prior approval from the Corporation at least ten (10) days before submission of tax credit application. The commitment letter must be executed by lender and signed as accepted by the applicant.

The Developer will be required to not prepay the permanent mortgage prior to the end of the minimum fifteen (15) year compliance period. Refinances are permitted.

5. Community Notification

All applicants must inform the public in the community in which they are planning to develop or rehabilitate a housing tax credit development of those plans and report public input to the Corporation. In order to give the public ample opportunity to comment, each applicant must hold a public hearing in the community, (^) within the zip code or a 3 mile radius where the development is planned, and must first publish notice of such hearing in a local or regional newspaper having general circulation in the development area. The notice must indicate that the applicant plans to apply for housing tax credits and must be published at least four (4) days, but no earlier than twenty (20) days prior to the public hearing. The public hearing must be held at least fifteen (15) days prior to (^)cycle opening date. If scheduled Monday through Friday, the hearings should be held between 5:30 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. to ensure that all interested parties can attend.

Additionally, applicants must post signage at the proposed site giving notice that a public hearing regarding the proposed development will be held that includes the owner's name, contact person, phone number, the date, time, and place of the hearing, and the fact that the applicant will be applying for housing tax credits. The sign must be at least 18" x 36", be fully visible from the street, and be posted by the date that the notice of public hearing is published in the newspaper.

(^) The developer is required to notify the Mayor or President of the Board of Supervisors and councilperson, alderman and/or local supervisor for the district in which the proposed development will be located, in advance of the public hearing date. (e.g. For a city, the mayor and councilperson/alderman for the district in which the development is proposed to be located; for a county, the president of the Board of Supervisors and the supervisor for the district in which the proposed development is to be located).

(^) The applicant must provide the acknowledgment form included in the QAP to be completed by the appropriate local authorities confirming they have been notified. The form must be executed no later than the date the public hearing notice is run in the newspaper and be included in the application package. Additionally, the hearing must be conducted by the owner, developer, or consultant who is directly involved with the proposed development and has a thorough understanding of the tax credit program.

(^) All applicants will be required to submit notification regarding the hearing to the Corporation. This notification should be faxed to the Corporation at (601) 968-0205 no later than the date the notice is published in the newspaper. MHC staff may attend the public hearings as an observer; however, MHC will not offer any comments in support or objection to the proposed developments. Additionally, developers must present the drawings to be submitted to MHC, in accordance with item 11(2) of the selection criteria, for the public's review at the hearings.

Each applicant must submit Proof of Publication of the Notice of Public Hearing, Minutes of the Public Hearing, a copy of the attendance roster from the public hearing, and a photograph of the signage required at the proposed site as part of their threshold requirement.

Each applicant must also provide a written compilation of the comments received from the public hearing that includes the developer's responsive comments, and a developer's statement as to how the concern(s), if any, will be addressed if tax credits are awarded to the development.

The Corporation will advise an applicant of its points score and subsequently, of any deficiency in the Threshold Requirements via fax at the number supplied by the applicant in the application. The applicant will not be permitted to submit any additional information relating to Selection Criteria points but will have the opportunity to correct and return a deficient threshold item to the Corporation via FAX to (601) 968-0205 or hand delivery within the time frame requested in the notice of deficiency, typically 24 hours or less. In addition, two (2) points will be deducted for each deficient threshold requirement item.

Any application not meeting the minimum threshold requirements will not be eligible to receive an award of tax credits.

REMINDER

ALL FIVE (5) THRESHOLD REQUIREMENTS

MUST BE COMPLETELY SATISFIED TO BE

ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE A TAX CREDIT AWARD

SELECTION CRITERIA

The Corporation will use the Selection Criteria stated below for the purpose of ranking developments during the application cycle. Applicants must score a minimum of ninety-two (92) points using the selection criteria below to be considered for a reservation of tax credits, except for developments satisfying the following criteria:

- The Corporation will reduce the minimum score required to eighty (80) points for preservation developments that are committed to providing one hundred percent (100%) of the unit's set-a-side for tenants at or below sixty percent (60%) of the county median gross income for forty (40) years or longer.

Applications will be scored and ranked according to the applicable set-aside identified in this Qualified Allocation Plan. Any unused, returned or national pool credit authority will be awarded to applications placed on a waiting list, ranked by scores statewide, during the application cycle.

The Corporation anticipates reserving, for those developments scoring highest under the Selection Criteria and meeting the minimum point threshold, tax credits up to the amount permitted by Section 42, as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code and necessary for the financial feasibility of the development and its viability as a qualified affordable housing development throughout the compliance period for each set-aside identified.

Regardless of strict numerical ranking, however, the Selection Criteria does not operate to vest in an applicant or development any right to a reservation or allocation of tax credits in any amount. Further, notwithstanding the point ranking system set forth above, the Corporation reserves the right and shall have the power to allocate tax credits to a development irrespective of its point ranking, if such intended allocation is: (1) in compliance with Section 42, as amended, of the Internal Revenue Code; (2) in furtherance of the housing goals stated herein; and (3) determined by the Corporation to be in the interests of the citizens of the State of Mississippi. However, the Corporation will make available to the public a written explanation for any tax credit allocation, which is not made in accordance with established priorities and selection criteria of the agency. If there is a tie in the scoring between proposed developments, the Corporation reserves the right to utilize a tie-breaking system as identified as herein to break the tie.

The Corporation will in all instances reserve and allocate tax credits consistent with sound and reasonable judgment, prudent business practices, and the exercise of its inherent discretion, reserving to itself such ultimate discretion permitted by applicable law.

Tie Breakers

In the event of a tie in the scores, the following Tie Breaking System-will be used:

For ACA applications, first, a development to be located in a qualified census tract shall take precedence over one that is not. Second, (if all or none are located in a QCT), applications will be ranked according to tax credits per unit favoring the development that requires the fewest tax credits per unit.

For GO Zone applications, first, to elderly developments located in any of the following counties: Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, Stone, Pearl River, George (the “Directed Six”); second, to developments located in Harrison County, until three such developments have been awarded credits in a funding round; third,, to developments located in Hancock or Jackson Counties until one application has been funded in each county; fourth, to developments located in Stone, Pearl River, or George Counties; (^) fifth, to developments utilizing the fewest credits per unit.

SELECTION PROCESS

For GO Zone competition, selection of applicants that have met points, threshold, and underwriting criteria of this Plan shall begin with the Non-profit set-aside, and continue with the Rehabilitation set-aside, followed by the Public Housing Authority set-aside, and finally, the remaining funds available in the GO Zone. Within these set-asides, it is anticipated that applicants will be awarded in accordance with their scores and ranking.

In light of the devastation of particular counties, it is anticipated that, at a minimum, and to the extent supported by market studies, awards will be made in the following counties: Harrison – three (3); Jackson – two (2); Hancock – two (2); Stone, Pearl River, George – one (1) in each. Awards made under the set-asides mentioned above will count against these minimums.

For ACA competition, selection of applicants that have met points, threshold, and underwriting criteria of this Plan shall begin with the Non-profit set-aside, and continue with the Congressional Districts set-aside, followed by the Single Family lease purchase set-aside, and finally, the remaining funds available statewide.

In addition, the application shall include a certification by the applicant as to the full extent of all federal, state and local subsidies, which apply (or which the applicant expects to apply) with respect to each building or development. The Corporation may also require the submission of a legal opinion or other assurances satisfactory to the Corporation as to compliance of the proposed development with the Code.

NOTE

A DEVELOPMENT WILL NOT BE CONSIDERED FINANCIALLY FEASIBLE IF THERE IS A NEGATIVE CASH FLOW FOR ONE (1) OR MORE OF THE FIFTEEN (15) YEAR CASH FLOW PROJECTIONS OR IF THE MINIMUM REPLACEMENT AND OPERATING RESERVES ARE NOT SATISFIED

FINANCIAL EVALUATION / ANALYSIS

The Internal Revenue Code (the "Code") precludes state allocating agencies, including the Corporation, from allocating credits to a development in any amount beyond that required for the financial feasibility of the development and its viability as a qualified affordable housing development throughout the compliance period.

To determine the level of allocable credits, the Corporation will perform a financial analysis on each application, utilizing the following factors:

1. Development costs, including developer fees;
2. Sources and uses of funds;
3. Development income and expenses; and
4. Development syndication proceeds.

The Code further requires the Corporation give priority to developments for which the highest percentage of housing credit dollar amount is to be used for development costs other than the cost of intermediaries, unless granting such priority would impede the development of developments in "hard-to-develop" areas which have been designated by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development ("HUD").

Intermediary costs include, but are not limited to; developer fees, syndication fees, attorney fees, design professional fees, consultant fees, and organizational costs. The Act requires the allocating agency to evaluate intermediary costs at the time of evaluation. The Corporation will satisfy this statutory requirement by implementing a forty percent (40%) ceiling on the total percentage of intermediary costs as they relate to the total development cost of the development. If the total percentage of intermediary costs exceeds forty percent (40%), the Corporation will reduce the credit amount proportionally.

Based on its financial analysis, the Corporation will estimate the amount of tax credits it will reserve for each application. Should the development be approved for an allocation, the Corporation will advise the applicant in writing of the reservation and identify whatever additional criteria the development must satisfy in order to receive an allocation of tax credits.

In accordance with the Code, the Corporation gives preference in allocating the amount of tax credits among eligible developments to those developments (i) serving the lowest income tenants and (ii) obligated to serve qualified tenants for the longest period. The Corporation will conduct its financial analysis in accordance with these statutory requirements.

The Code requires the Corporation to conduct a second financial analysis at the time it actually allocates credits to each development and a third financial analysis at the time the development is placed in service.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

THE CORPORATION RESERVES THE RIGHT TO MAKE AND REVISE ALLOCATIONS ACCORDING TO ITS QUALIFIED ALLOCATION PLAN IN ITS INHERENT DISCRETION AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH PUBLISHED FEDERAL REGULATIONS.

Verification of Expenditures

The Corporation has established a process for requiring and analyzing cost certifications for all developments as part of the final feasibility evaluation, prior to issuing an IRS Form 8609. As part of the analysis, the Corporation will ascertain the reasonableness of the cost components.

For all developments, the Corporation will require owners to submit for the agency's review an independent third-party CPA cost certification as a part of the final feasibility evaluation.

Replacement and Operating Reserves

Replacement reserves are required for all applications for tax credits. Contributions must be made to a reserve account. Reserves must be funded for the term of the loan of the senior lender. Additionally, the owner (at the end of the first year of the credit period and annually thereafter), must show evidence that Operating and Replacement reserve accounts have been established and funded in accordance with the guidelines of this Plan and of the Compliance Monitoring Plan. The following minimum contributions must be used:

- Rehabilitation ($300 per unit per year)
- New Construction-Elderly ($250 per unit per year)
- New Construction-Family ($300 per unit per year)

Replacement reserves should be used only for capital improvements and system replacements and not used for general maintenance expenses. Capital improvements means improvements to the real estate, such as re-roofing, structural repairs, or major costs to replace or upgrade existing furnishings, but not including replacement of individual appliances or minor repairs. The cost of these capital improvements and system replacements should exceed $5,000 for developments with 24 units or less and exceed $10,000 for developments above 24 units. Replacement reserves will increase at a rate of four percent (4%) per year.

Operating reserves must be six months of the development's operating expenses. Calculations of operating reserves include replacement reserves. Operating reserves must be listed on the "Operating Reserve" line item under the "Cost Breakdown" section of the application.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

Replacement and operating reserve accounts should be maintained in a FDIC-insured financial institution.

A development will not be considered financially feasible if the aforementioned minimum reserves are not satisfied.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

PER UNIT COST

In designing the Tax Credit program, Congress granted states the flexibility to respond to their unique and varied affordable housing needs and the responsibility to maximize the credit's use in producing significant numbers of affordable housing units. To that end, Congress carefully limited the portion of a development, which can be financed by Tax Credits. Congress recognized; however, that the cost of providing low income housing:

- Is frequently highest in areas of greatest need, such as inner city areas; where development is frequently most expensive and difficult;
- May involve construction of facilities to support special services to low-income tenants;
- May sometimes require higher wage rates for such construction than other developments due to state or federal law;
- In developments, which include Tax Credit units, might also include market rate units not financed by the credit.

Congress did not limit either the total amount of Tax Credits which can be allocated to a single development or the total cost of any development, including costs which are ineligible to be financed by the Tax Credit and are financed by other sources. However, Congress does require states administering the Tax Credit Program to give priority to developments which serve the lowest income tenants and which serve tenants for the longest period of time, without regard to the higher amounts of Tax Credits which might be required to finance developments meeting those needs. The cost of producing low income housing, particularly special needs housing and housing located in difficult-to-develop areas, requires states to balance financing the maximum possible number of units which might be produced, if high cost areas and developments were avoided, and targeting Tax Credits to areas and tenants of greatest need, as Congress has required.

In addition to carefully rationing the amount of Tax Credits allocated to eligible developments, as federal law requires, the Corporation has developed a per unit cost standard and expenses per unit standard based on total development costs, including those costs which may be substantial, that are part of the development but not eligible for Tax Credit financing and annual operating expenses. These standards and their justification follow:

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

DETERMINING MAXIMUM COST (MC) PER UNIT

In developing the maximum cost per unit standard, the Corporation has examined building construction and land costs in the state, including variations in such costs within the state. The Corporation has also examined statistical cost data on completed Tax Credit developments. This process has produced a standard which prescribes a single limit for Rural Development ("RD"), formerly Farmers Home Administration, developments applicable to the entire state and area limits for developments financed by conventional sources and HUD mortgage insurance program.

If the Corporation receives an application for the award of Tax Credits to a development with per unit cost in excess of its established limits for an area, then all factors that contributed to the excess per unit cost such as exceptionally high land costs, material costs, or special wage rates, are required to be disclosed and fully explained in the justification for the application. Credits will be awarded to such developments only if (i) the review reveals that the additional costs are justifiable and reasonable under the circumstances, (ii) can be attributed to unique development characteristics (such as location in a difficult-to-develop area, limited commercial space or tenant services or common areas essential to the character of the development) which are consistent with the housing needs and priorities identified herein, and (iii) are either attributable to costs which Congress has permitted the Tax Credit to finance or, if not, are financed by other means.

The Corporation will also consider on a "case by case" basis the costs of developments having (i) significant amenities, (ii) significant rehabilitation or construction costs, (iii) significant acquisition and rehabilitation of a historical property, and (iv) having tangibly increased material and or labor costs.

MAXIMUM ADMINISTRATIVE EXPENSES (MAE) PER UNIT

In developing the maximum administrative expense per unit standard, the Corporation examined statistical cost data on completed Tax Credit developments to determine the applicable administrative management fees to be charged to a development. This information was used by the Corporation to develop a formula for calculating the maximum administrative expenses per unit (Annual Operating Expense).

If the Corporation receives an application for the award of Tax Credits to a development with maximum administrative expenses per unit cost in excess of the established limits for an area, all factors that contributed to the excess administrative per unit cost such as exceptionally high real estate taxes, insurance costs, maintenance reserves, or replacement reserves, are required to be disclosed and fully explained in the justification for the application. Justification regarding excessive maximum expense per unit should be provided by a certified public accountant. Credits will be awarded to such developments only if the review reveals that the additional expenses are justifiable and reasonable under the circumstances and can be attributed to unique development requirements which are consistent with the housing needs and priorities identified herein. The Corporation will consider developments meeting this criterion on a "case by case" basis. The Corporation shall have the sole authority in determining review of "case by case" developments.

The Corporation will consider on a "case by case" basis the maximum annual operating expenses of developments having (i) significant amenities, (ii) significant provision(s) for social services, and (iii) significant costs related to local market conditions (i.e. real estate taxes, utility costs, requirement of security, etc.).

In addition to a maximum expense per unit, the Corporation will require a minimum expense per unit of $2,700. If a development fails to meet the minimum expense per unit, the development will not be considered financially feasible for an allocation of tax credits.

DEVELOPER FEES

The Corporation will allow a base fee of fifteen percent (15%) of the development's construction costs, including builder's profit, for developer's fees, which includes developer's overhead and consultant fees. This base fee may be increased dependent upon a development meeting the criteria below. The Corporation will permit a flat developer fee of ten percent (10%) on the development's allowable acquisition cost.

- Development size - The smaller the development size, the higher the fee would be as a percentage of development costs.
- Development characteristics - Certain developments may be allowed higher developer fees as an incentive to produce hard-to-develop or socially desirable developments, such as homeless housing, single room occupancy housing, and scattered site developments.
- Development location - Higher developer fees may be allowed for developments developed in difficult-to-develop areas.

The developer's fee is intended to compensate for staff time, entrepreneurial effort and risk involved in development of the development including payments or fees paid to the developer, overhead, and profit. In reviewing applications for financial feasibility, the Corporation does not anticipate allowing developer fees to exceed that percentage and must, in any event, give priority to those developments with the lowest intermediary costs.

A developer may defer a portion of their developer's fee in an effort to satisfy an additional equity requirement. If a developer elects to defer any portion of the developer's fee, a Developer's Note outlining the terms and conditions of the deferred portion must accompany the application. Prior to receiving Forms 8609, a revised Developer's Note, along with a statement of authorization from the participating syndicator indicating the deferred portion is acceptable and is allowable in eligible basis, must be submitted.

CONSULTANT FEES

The Corporation has determined that there is no uniform definition or treatment of “consultant fee” among the State Allocating Agencies. Additionally, there is evidence that the total amount of consultant fees is particularly high in developments with nonprofit sponsors and developers, leading to higher per unit costs for those developments.

The Corporation has determined that for allocation purposes the definition of consultant fees include the following:

- Those professional fees (such as for architects and engineers), which would be reimbursable through the Tax Credit.
- Excludes costs properly allocated to and payable by the syndicator (such as SEC registration and sales commissions), and
- Consultant fees, other than the professional fees set forth above are permitted only within the developer fee limit.

The Corporation makes no distinctions between for-profit and nonprofit developers for the purposes of determining the appropriate level of consultant fees.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

LIMITS ON BUILDER OR GENERAL CONTRACTOR CHARGES

The Corporation is also including in this allocation plan limits on builder or general contractor charges. The Allocation Plan includes limits as follows:

- Builder's profit - six percent (6%) of construction costs;
- Builder's overhead - two percent (2%) of construction costs; and,
- General requirements - six percent (6%) of construction costs.

Amounts in excess of the subject limits will be considered excessive.

UNDERWRITING OF TAX CREDIT APPLICATIONS

Maximum Supportable Mortgage (During the initial 15 year compliance period):

A development whose fifteen (15) year average net cash flow exceeds the debt service beyond the acceptable range of 1:1.15 to 1:1.30 must, at the time of reservation, either:

- i. Obtain a higher permanent mortgage supported by a debt service coverage within the acceptable range, or
- ii. Reduce the rents that would be charged to the tenants.

A development is not considered feasible for tax credits if the average debt service coverage ratio does not fall within the acceptable range. The minimum debt service ratio will be enforced.

Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA): The Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996 (NAHASDA) assistance is not taken into account in determining whether a building is federally subsidized for purposes of tax credits. Such buildings may qualify for up to nine percent (9%) credits provided that deeper targeting rules consistent with special targeting for HOME financed developments are followed.

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 charges the Corporation to allocate only that amount of tax credits to a development as required to make the development economically feasible. The Corporation's determination is made solely at its discretion and in no way constitutes a representation or warranty, expressed or implied, to any sponsor, lender, investor, or third party as to the feasibility of a given development. By allocating tax credits to a development, the Corporation makes no representation or warranty, expressed or implied, to the development owner, investors, lender, or third party that its allocation constitutes a determination that the development adheres to requirements of the Internal Revenue Code, relevant Treasury regulations, or any other laws or requirements governing the tax credit program.

The Corporation may amend the Qualified Allocation Plan and its Housing Tax Credit Program as required by the promulgation or amendment of the Regulations and to meet the public purpose policies of the Corporation, from time to time. Such amendment is expressly permitted by the Qualified Allocation Plan, and the making of such amendment will not require further public hearings.

The Corporation will develop a Compliance Monitoring Plan in accordance with the Qualified Allocation Plan for compliance and monitoring of developments having received an allocation of Housing Tax Credits.

No Corporation member, employee, or agent shall be personally liable with respect to any matter or matters arising out of, or in relation to, the Tax Credit Program.

IDENTITY OF INTEREST

The Corporation will require in its Tax Credit application that a developer identify the existence of an identity of interest with another party to the development and take such identity of interest into consideration in determining maximum fees. Identity of interest must be disclosed whether the interest is indicated between the buyer/seller and/or developer/builder. Where there is an identity of interest between the buyer and seller, the sale must be an "arms length" transaction with acquisition costs supported by a certified appraisal. Where there is an identity of interest between the developer and builder, profit cannot exceed the maximum developer's profit and builder's combined.

COMPLIANCE MONITORING PLAN SUMMARY

GENERAL

The Income Tax regulations (26 CFR part 1) under Section 42, as amended of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 which was amended and renumbered by the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1990, is effective on January 1, 1992, which was amended, effective January 1, 2001, and applies to all buildings placed in service for which the low-income housing credit determined under Section 42, as amended is, or has been, allowable at any time.

Section 42, as amended provides for a housing tax credit that may be claimed as part of the general business credit under Section 38. The credit determined under Section 42, as amended is allowable only to the extent the owner of a qualified low-income building receives a housing credit allocation from a State or local housing credit agency ("Agency"), unless the building is exempt from the allocation requirement by reason of Section 42 (h)(4)(B), as amended. Under Section 42, as amended, the housing credit dollar amount for any building is zero unless the amount was allocated pursuant to a qualified allocation plan of the Agency. Similarly, under Section 42, as amended, the housing credit dollar amount for any development qualifying under Section 42 (h)(4), as amended is zero unless the development satisfies the requirements for allocation of a housing credit dollar amount under the qualified allocation plan of the Agency. Under Section 42, as amended, an allocation plan is not qualified unless it contains a procedure that the Agency (or an agent of, or private contractor hired by, the Agency) will follow in monitoring compliance with the provisions of Section 42, as amended and notifying the Internal Revenue Service of any noncompliance of which the Agency becomes aware.

MONITORING PROCEDURES

Record-keeping and Record Retention

The owner of a Housing Tax Credit (HTC) development is required to keep records for each building in the development showing:

- a. The total number of residential rental units in the building (including the number of bedrooms and the size in square feet of each residential unit),
- b. The percentage of residential rental units in the building that are low-income units, the rent charged on each residential rental unit in the building (including any utility allowance),
- c. The number of occupants in each low-income unit,
- d. The low-income vacancies in the building and information that shows when, and to whom, the next available units were rented,

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

- e. The annual income certification and recertification of each low-income tenant per unit,
- f. Written documentation to support each low-income tenant's income certification,
- g. The applicable fraction, eligible basis and qualified basis of the building at the end of the first year of the credit period, and for each year thereafter of the development's compliance period,
- h. The character and use of the nonresidential portion of the building included in the building's eligible basis under Section 42(d), as amended (e.g., tenant facilities that are available on a comparable basis to all tenants and for which no separate fee is charged for use of the facilities, or facilities reasonably required by the development).

Federal law requires the owner of a Housing Tax Credit (HTC) development to keep written records documenting compliance with the above noted requirements for at least six (6) years after the due date (with extensions) for filing the federal income tax return for that year. The records for the first year of the credit period, however, must be retained for at least six (6) years beyond the due date (with extensions) for filing the federal income tax return for the last year of the compliance period of the building. In addition to the above noted federal requirements, the Corporation requires an owner to maintain written records of current residents for the duration of the resident's tenancy, plus an additional twelve (12) months.

Certification and Review

The owner of a Housing Tax Credit (HTC) development is required to certify annually to the Corporation that, for the preceding 12-month period the development meets either (a) the 20-50 test under Section 42 (g)(1)(A), as amended, OR (b) the 40-60 test under Section 42(g)(1)(B), as amended, or (c) the 25-60 test under Section 42(g)(4) of the Code, whichever minimum set a side test is applicable to the development. Owners of "deep rent skewed developments" must also demonstrate that the development satisfies the minimum requirements of the 15-40 test under Sections 42(g)(4) and 142(d)(4)(8) of the Code.

In addition, the owner is required to certify that:

- a. There was no change in the applicable fraction (as defined in Section 42 (c) (1) (B), as amended of any building in the development, or that there was a change, and a description of the change.
- b. The owner has received an annual income certification from each low-income tenant, and documentation to support that certification.
- c. Each low-income unit in the development was rent-restricted under Section 42 (g)(2), as amended, all units in the development were for use by the general public and used on a non-transient basis (except for transitional housing for the homeless provided under Section 42 (i) (3) (B) (iii), as amended.

- d. Each building in the development was suitable for occupancy, taking into account local health, safety, and building codes.
- e. There was no change in the eligible basis (as defined in Section 42 (d) of any building in the development, or if there was a change, the nature of the change.
- f. All tenant facilities included in the eligible basis under Section 42 (d), as amended of any building in the development, such as swimming pools, other recreational facilities, and parking areas, were provided on a comparable basis without charge to all tenants in the building.
- g. If a low-income unit in the development became vacant during the year, that reasonable attempts were or are being made to rent that unit or the next available unit of comparable or smaller size to tenants having a qualifying income before any units in the development were or will be rented to tenants not having a qualifying income.
- h. If the income of tenants of a low-income unit in the development increased above the limit allowed in Section 42 (g) (2) (D) (ii), as amended, the next available unit of comparable or smaller size in the development was or will be rented to tenants having a qualifying income, and an extended low-income housing commitment as described in Section 42 (h)(6), as amended was in effect (for buildings subject to section 7108(c)(1) of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1989).
- i. For the preceding 12-month period the state or local government unit responsible for making building code inspections did not issue a report of a violation for the property. If the governmental unit issued a report of a violation, the owner is required to attach a copy of the report of the violation to the annual certification submitted to the Corporation. The owner must state on the certification whether the violation has been corrected. Retention of the original violation report is not required once the Corporation reviews the violation and completes its inspection, unless the violation remains uncorrected.
- j. Has not refused to lease a unit in the development to a Section 8 applicant solely because the applicant holds a Section 8 Housing Choice voucher.
- k. No finding of discrimination under the Fair Housing Act has occurred for the development (a finding of discrimination includes adverse final decision by HUD, an adverse final decision by a substantially equivalent state or local fair housing agency, or an adverse judgment from a Federal court).

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

NOTE: Each of the above noted certifications is required for all developments receiving an allocation of tax credits at least through the end of the building's fifteen (15) year compliance period. Additional certifications may be required of developments during their Extended Use Periods.

In addition to reviewing these certifications, the Corporation will conduct on-site inspections of all buildings in each affordable housing development and, at a minimum, review the tenant income certification, the documentation supporting such certification, and the rent record for these units at least once every three (3) years for at least twenty percent (20%) of a development's affordable units. In addition, the Corporation will conduct an inspection of all buildings placed in service in a development after January 1, 2001 by the end of the second calendar year following the year the last building in the property is placed in service. At its sole option, the Corporation may give an owner reasonable notice that an inspection will occur so that the owner may assemble the appropriate records.

Inspection

The Corporation has the right to perform an on-site inspection of all housing developments for which an allocation of housing tax credit is/was awarded at least through the end of the compliance period, including any extended use period. This inspection provision as stated herein is in addition to any review of low-income certifications, supporting documents, and rent records.

At a minimum, the inspection will grant the Corporation the ability to determine if a housing tax credit unit is suitable for occupancy. Inspection standards to be used are intended to ensure that the housing is decent, safe, sanitary, and in good repair. Irrespective of the physical inspection standards selected by the Corporation, an affordable housing development under Section 42 must continue to satisfy local health, safety, and building codes.

A building will be considered exempt from the physical inspection requirement if it is part of a development that is/was financed by Rural Housing Services (RHS) under the Section 515 program, is inspected by RHS (under 7 CFR Part 1930(c), and the Corporation has entered a memorandum of understanding, or other similar agreement, under which RD agrees to notify the Corporation of the inspection results. The Corporation reserves the right to perform physical inspections in lieu of accepting RD inspections results.

Notification

The Corporation will notify the owner of a housing tax credit development in writing as soon as possible, generally within 45 days of the deadline date, if the Corporation does not receive the required certification, or if the Corporation discovers on inspection, or review, or in some other manner, that the development is not in compliance with the provisions of Section 42, as amended, of the Code.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

The owner will have an opportunity to supply a missing certification or to correct noncompliance within the correction period as defined by the Corporation, beginning on the date of the Corporation's notice. The Corporation may grant extensions of up to six (6) months, if the extension is based on a determination by the Corporation that there is good cause for granting the extension.

The Corporation will notify the Internal Revenue Service of an owner's noncompliance or failure to certify no later than forty-five (45) days after the end of the time allotted for correction, whether or not the noncompliance or failure to certify is corrected. The Corporation will notify the Internal Revenue Service by filing Form 8823, Housing Credit Agencies Report of Noncompliance. The Corporation will explain on Form 8823 the nature of the noncompliance or failure to certify and state whether the owner has corrected the noncompliance or failure to certify.

In the event the Corporation reports on Form 8823 that a building is entirely out of compliance and will not be in compliance at any time in the future, the Corporation will not file Form 8823 in subsequent years to report that building's noncompliance because the original citation notes the development is no longer in compliance nor participating in the Section 42 program.

POST YEAR 15 COMPLIANCE MONITORING PLAN

Developments entering into an extended low-income use period after the completion of the initial fifteen (15) year compliance period will be monitored in accordance with the post year fifteen (15) monitoring procedures as outlined herein and in the Compliance Monitoring Plan. A development's extended use period will be evidenced by an executed Declaration of Land Use Restrictive Covenant agreement between the Corporation and the owner.

Additionally, the Compliance Monitoring division of the Corporation will assess an annual servicing/monitoring fee of twenty ($20.00) Dollars per low-income unit to cover staff costs to monitor tax credit developments during the extended use period. This fee is applicable only for developments that have executed a Declaration of Land Use Restrictive Covenant with the Corporation. On an annual basis, the servicing fee will be due to the Corporation on the same date as the Annual Owner Certification (AOC) report, as prescribed by the Compliance Monitoring division.

CORPORATION DELEGATION OF MONITORING FUNCTIONS

The Corporation may retain an agent or other private contractor to perform compliance monitoring. In this event, the agent or other private contractor may be delegated the functions of the Corporation to monitor compliance, except for the responsibility of filing Form 8823.

MONITORING FEES

Under current monitoring regulations and guidance, the Corporation will charge monitoring fees to all developments at the award of an allocation of housing tax credits. The Corporation may require additional monitoring charges if subsequent guidance or regulations warrant changes to the Corporation's monitoring procedures. For developments receiving tax credits before 2006 no additional fees beyond the initial fee for the first year's allocation and monitoring fees is required for compliance monitoring. This fee is non-refundable and must be provided to the Corporation in the form of certified funds or a cashier's check.

The owner of a development in noncompliance will be responsible for reimbursing the Corporation for all expenses incurred. Expenses for conducting additional on-site inspections will include but are not limited to:

- a. The standard mileage rate in effect at the time of the reinspection,
- b. Any overnight expenses,
- c. A meal allowance of $25.00 per day, and
- d. A charge of $55.00 per hour to review tenant files and/or to perform a re-inspection of the development's physical condition.
- e. The Corporation will also charge fifty-five dollars ($55.00) per hour with a fifty-five dollar ($55.00) minimum to review documents forwarded to the Corporation to correct noncompliance. Any additional expenses incurred by the Corporation as it relates to an owner's noncompliance shall be the responsibility of the owner.
- f. The Corporation will also assess a late fee of $100.00 per day per development for every day an owner's Annual Owner Certification is past due beyond the deadline date prescribed by the Compliance Monitoring division.

LIABILITY

Compliance with the requirements of Section 42, as amended, of the Code is the responsibility of the owner of the building for which the credit is allowable. The Corporation's obligation to monitor for compliance with the requirements of Section 42, as amended, of the Code does not make the Corporation liable for an owner's noncompliance.

EFFECTIVE DATE

The requirement of Section 42(m) (1) (B)(iii) mandating that allocation plans contain a procedure for monitoring for non-compliance effective on January 1, 1992, applies to buildings for which a low-income housing credit is, or has been allowable at any time. (The Corporation is required to notify the IRS of ALL instances of noncompliance, including noncompliance that commenced on or before the January 1, 1992 effective date of compliance monitoring requirements.)

FAIR HOUSING ACCESSIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Purpose

In 1988, Congress passed the Fair Housing Amendments Act as a supplement to Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, commonly known as the Fair Housing Act. The Amendments expand coverage of Title VIII to prohibit discriminatory housing practices based on disability and familial status. The Fair Housing Act establishes design and construction requirements for multifamily housing built for first occupancy after March 13, 1991. The law provides that failure to design and construct certain multifamily dwellings to include certain features of accessible design will be regarded as unlawful discrimination.

The design and construction requirements of the Fair Housing Act apply to all new multifamily housing consisting of four or more dwelling units. Such buildings must meet specific design requirements so public and common use spaces and facilities are accessible to people with disabilities. In addition, the interior of dwelling units covered by the Fair Housing Act must be designed so they too meet certain accessibility requirements.

The Fair Housing Act's purpose is to place modest accessibility requirements on covered multifamily dwellings incorporated into the design of new buildings, resulting in features, which do not look unusual and will not add significant additional costs. Housing designed in accordance with the Fair Housing Act will have accessible entrances, wider doors and provisions to allow for easy installation of grab bars around toilets and bathtubs.

Enforcement Agency

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is the federal enforcement agency for compliance with the Fair Housing Act. Designers and builders were guided by the requirements of the ANSI A117.1-1986 American National Standard for Buildings and Facilities - Providing Accessibility and Usability for Physically Handicapped People until March 6, 1991. The Fair Housing Accessibility Guidelines were published on this date (56 Federal Register 9472-9515, 24 CFR Chapter I, Subchapter A, Appendix II and III). The Guidelines provide technical guidance on designing dwelling units as required by the Fair Housing Act. These Guidelines are not mandatory, but are intended to provide a safe harbor for compliance with the accessibility requirements of the Fair Housing Act.

The Guidelines published on March 6, 1991, remain unchanged. However, on June 28, 1994, HUD published a supplemental notice to the Guidelines, "Supplement to Notice of Fair Housing Accessibility Guidelines: Questions and Answers About the Guidelines." This supplemental notice reproduces questions that have been most frequently asked by members of the public, and HUD's answers to those questions.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

Under the Fair Housing Act, HUD is not required to review builders' plans or issue a certification of compliance with the Fair Housing Act. The burden of compliance rests with the persons or persons who design and construct covered multifamily dwellings. HUD or an individual who thinks he or she may have been discriminated against may file a complaint against the building owner, the architect, the contractor, and any other persons involved in the design and construction of the building.

Laws and Codes That Mandate Accessibility

Over the past two and a half decades, several statutes have been enacted at various levels of government that ensure nondiscrimination against people with disabilities, both in the design of the built environment and in the manner that programs are conducted. Certain dwellings as well as certain public and common use areas may be covered by several of the laws listed below. A brief synopsis of the landmark legislation follows to show where the Fair Housing Act fits into the overall history of accessibility legislation.

The Architectural Barriers Act (1968)

This Act stipulates that all buildings, other than privately owned residential facilities, constructed by or on behalf of, or leased by the United States must be physically accessible for people with disabilities. The Uniform Federal Accessibility Standards (UFAS) is the applicable standard.

Section 504 of The Rehabilitation Act (1973)

Under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended, no otherwise qualified individual with a disability may be discriminated against in any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance. The purpose of Section 504 is to eliminate discriminatory behavior toward people with disabilities and to provide physical accessibility, thus ensuring that people with disabilities will have the same opportunities in federally funded programs as do people without disabilities.

Program accessibility may be achieved by modifying an existing facility or by moving the program to an accessible location, or by making other accommodations, including construction of new buildings. HUD's final regulation for Section 504 may be found at 24 CFR Part 8. Generally, the UFAS is the design standard for providing physical accessibility, although other standards which provide equivalent or greater accessibility may be used.

The Fair Housing Act of 1968, as Amended

The Fair Housing Act provides equal opportunities for people in the housing market regardless of disability, race, color, sex, religion, familial status or national origin, regardless of whether the housing is publicly funded or not. This includes the sale, rental, and financing of housing, as well as the physical design of newly constructed multifamily housing.

The Americans With Disabilities Act (1990)

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a broad civil rights law guaranteeing equal opportunity for individuals with disabilities in employment, public accommodations, transportation, state and local government services, and telecommunications. Title II of the ADA applies to all programs, services, and activities provided or made available by public entities. With respect to housing, this includes, for example, public housing and housing provided for state colleges and universities.

State and Local Codes

All states and many cities and counties have developed their own building codes for accessibility, usually based in whole or in part on the specifications contained in the major national standards such as ANSI and UFAS. Many states also have nondiscrimination and fair housing laws similar to the Fair Housing Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

When local codes differ from the national standard, either in scope or technical specification, the general rule is that the more stringent requirement should be followed. Many states also have provisions that a certain percentage (often 5%) of new multifamily housing must meet more stringent physical accessibility requirements than required under the Fair Housing Act. In such cases, both the state mandated percentage of accessible units must be provided and all dwellings covered by the Fair Housing Act must meet the Guidelines.

General Provisions of The Fair Housing Act

The Fair Housing Act covers most types of housing. In some circumstances it exempts owner-occupied buildings with no more than four units, single-family housing sold or rented without the use of a broker, and housing operated by organizations and private clubs that limit occupancy to members.

2007/2008 Qualified Allocation Plan

The broad objective of the Fair Housing Act is to prohibit discrimination in housing because of a person's race, color, national origin, religion, sex, familial status, or disability. The Fair Housing Act includes two important provisions: one, a provision making it unlawful to refuse to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, and services when necessary to allow the resident with a disability equal opportunity to use the property and its amenities; and two, a provision making it unlawful to refuse to permit residents with disabilities to make reasonable modifications to either their dwelling unit or to the public and common use areas, at the residents' cost.

Reasonable Accommodations

In buildings with a "no pets" rule, that rule must be waived for a person with a visual impairment who uses a service dog, or for other persons who use a service dog, or for other persons who use service animals. In buildings that provide parking spaces for residents on a "first come, first served" basis, reserved parking spaces must be provided if requested by a resident with a disability who may need them.

Reasonable Modifications

When a resident wishes to modify a dwelling unit under the reasonable modification provisions of the Fair Housing Act, the resident may do so. The landlord/manager may require that the modifications be completed in a professional manner under the applicable building codes, and may also require that the resident agree to restore the interior of the dwelling to the condition that existed before the modification, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

Landlords may not require that modifications be restored that would be unreasonable, i.e., modifications that no way affect the next resident's enjoyment of the premises. For example, if a resident who uses a wheelchair finds that the bathroom door in the dwelling unit is too narrow to allow his or her wheelchair to pass, the landlord must give permission for the door to be widened, at the resident's expense. The landlord may not require the doorway be narrowed at the end of the resident's tenancy because the wider doorway will not interfere with the next resident's use of the dwelling.

Residents also may make modifications to the public and common use spaces. For instance, in an existing development it would be considered reasonable for a resident who uses a wheelchair to have a ramp built to gain access to an on-site laundry facility. If a resident cannot afford such a modification, the resident may ask a friend to do his or her laundry in the laundry room, and the landlord must waive any rule that prohibits nonresidents from gaining access to the laundry room.

The Scope of the Design and Construction Requirements of the Fair Housing Act

The accessibility requirements of the Fair Housing Act are intended to provide usable housing for persons with disabilities without necessarily being significantly different from conventional housing. The Fair Housing Act specifies certain features of accessible design and certain features of adaptable design.

Adaptable Dwelling Units

Covered dwelling units that meet the design requirements of the Guidelines are sometimes referred to as “adaptable dwelling units” or units that meet “certain features of accessible design.” The Guidelines incorporate accessibility features that are both accessible and adaptable. Accessible elements and spaces are those whose design allows them to be used by the greatest numbers of users without being modified. For example, the requirement within the covered dwelling unit for “usable” doors, with a nominal clear opening of 32 inches, ensures that dwelling unit doors are not too narrow or impassable for any resident.

Adaptable/adjustable elements and spaces are those with a design which allows them to be adapted or adjusted to accommodate the needs of different people. The Fair Housing Act incorporates the adaptable/adjustable concept in bathroom walls by requiring that they contain reinforced areas to allow for later installation of grab bars without the need for major structural work on the walls.

Dwellings Covered by the Design Requirements

The design requirements apply to buildings built for first occupancy after March 13, 1991, which fall under the definition of “covered multifamily dwellings.” Covered multifamily dwellings are:

1. All dwelling units in buildings containing four or more dwelling units if such buildings have one or more elevators, and
2. All ground floor dwelling units in other buildings containing four or more units.

To be a covered unit, all of the finished living space must be on the same floor, that is, be a single-story unit, such as single-story townhouses, villas, or patio apartments. Multistory dwelling units are not covered by the Guidelines except when they are located in buildings which have one or more elevators, in which case, the primary entry level is covered.
