

TDHCA seeks public input for 2011 housing program rules

Recognizing that input from a variety of stakeholders leads to more effective, responsive programs, TDHCA will hold a series of public hearings to accept comment on the rules and policy documents that will shape the state's affordable housing programs in 2011.

The hearings begin in Dallas September 29, followed by others scheduled for Houston, El Paso, Brownsville and Midland, before concluding October 15 in Austin.

Individuals who are unable to attend any of the six hearings are encouraged to contribute written comment. Instructions for submitting written comment are provided on the hearings page at the link above.

The comment period for three policy related documents runs September 17 to October 18, while the comment period for the program rules runs September 24 to October 23.
