

WHEDA is pleased to announce the upcoming launch of a FREE housing locator website that will provide thorough, up-to-date information about rental housing across Wisconsin. This web-based service will be fully supported by a toll-free, multilingual call center and will let property providers advertise unlimited units free of charge starting in October!

Properties listed on the new service will include a wide range of private market and assisted and accessible housing. Landlords will have 24-hour access to adding and updating listings. Listings can highlight amenities and include photos.

Prospective tenants will be able search for free for rentals according to specific needs like affordability and proximity to medical facilities, public transit and schools. The housing search will be live on November 19, 2013, and will be officially launched at the WHEDA Conference 2013.

We encourage you to take full advantage of this invaluable resource. Stay tuned for future announcements with details.
