FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NMTC Permanence, Start of 2022 Allocation Round Focus at Novogradac New Markets Tax Credit Conference in San Diego
Novogradac to Host 23rd Annual New Markets Tax Credit Conference Jan. 19-20, 2023

SAN FRANCISCO—The announcement of the 2021 allocation round of the new markets tax credit (NMTC) as well as the launch of the 2022 round will lead the conversation at the upcoming Novogradac 23rd Annual New Markets Tax Credit Conference Jan. 19-20, 2023, at the Omni San Diego in San Diego. Sourcing leverage debt, the targeted populations approach to NMTCs and closing transactions in tough economic times will also be topics of conversation.

“What a time to be alive! We’ve got so much going on in the NMTC industry right now, it’s such a perfect moment for everyone throughout the industry to gather together at our conference,” said Nicolo Pinoli, CPA, a partner in Novogradac’s Portland, Oregon, office and conference chair. “Between deploying allocation and getting deals done from the recently announced round to submitting applications for the next round, there’s so much going on in our industry that the conference will be wall-to-wall nonstop action and excitement—what better environment to meet with your peers, collaborate, and get it done?!”

Conference panel topics will include measuring community impact, an investor outlook for 2023 and the Washington Report panel with what’s on the horizon for the 118th Congress after it is seated in January. The full agenda can be found here.

In addition to the panel topics, Novogradac will host a single-day preconference Diversity, Equity and Inclusion \(DEI\) Summit on Jan. 18, 2023. The summit seeks to increase attendees’ understanding of the context and history about how industry professionals, businesses and organizations have conducted business and why it is important to value and prioritize positive change, true equality and opportunity for all free from inherent bias.

The Novogradac 23rd Annual New Markets Tax Credit Conference is co-hosted by Capital One, Chase Bank, Nixon Peabody, PNC and U.S. Bank and sponsored by Dudley Ventures, Enterprise
