Novogradac & Company LLP Promotes Rebecca Darling to Partner

National CPA Firm Promotes Three to Partner in Atlanta and San Francisco Offices

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco-based accounting and consulting firm Novogradac & Company LLP elevated Rebecca Darling to partner. Novogradac, which specializes in affordable housing, community development, historic preservation, renewable energy and opportunity zones, also promoted two of her colleagues to partner. Ms. Darling works out of the firm’s metro Atlanta office.

“We are very pleased to announce the promotion of Rebecca to partner,” said Michael J. Novogradac, the firm’s managing partner. “Rebecca’s successful development of effective client relationships and her strong mentoring and team development skills have made her a valuable member of our firm.”

“I am excited to assume my new position as partner,” said Ms. Darling. “As my role within the firm grows, I look forward to finding new ways to continue to serve our clients and mentor our staff.”

Ms. Darling has experience in all areas of real estate accounting, with an emphasis in the new markets tax credit (NMTC), historic rehabilitation tax credit and affordable housing sectors. She specializes in audit and taxation of NMTC and low-income housing tax credit partnerships, including those subject to the auditing requirements of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. She has extensive experience in assisting in the facilitation, review and preparation of NMTC allocation applications. Ms. Darling works closely with the Novogradac NMTC Working Group, a membership organization that is highly regarded for its effort in addressing technical programmatic issues surrounding the NMTC. She is a contributor to the Novogradac New Markets Tax Credit Handbook and Novogradac Introduction to New Markets Tax Credit booklet. Additionally, she is a frequent speaker at industry events. Ms. Darling earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration with a concentration in accounting from Kennesaw State University. She is licensed in Georgia as a certified public accountant.
