FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Novogradac & Company LLP Promotes Roy Chou to Partner

National CPA Firm Promotes Three to Partner in Atlanta and San Francisco Offices

SAN FRANCISCO—San Francisco-based accounting and consulting firm Novogradac & Company LLP elevated Roy Chou to partner. Novogradac, which specializes in affordable housing, community development, historic preservation, renewable energy and opportunity zones, also promoted two of his colleagues to partner. Mr. Chou works out of the firm’s San Francisco office.

“We are very pleased to announce the promotion of Roy to partner,” said Michael J. Novogradac, the firm’s managing partner. “Roy is a strong communicator with excellent client relationship skills and is respected both internally and externally as a subject matter expert for his areas of specialization.”

“I am excited about joining the partnership,” said Mr. Chou. “I look forward to the challenges that lie ahead as I look for new and innovative ways to serve our current and future clients.”

Mr. Chou has experience in real estate, affordable housing and community development, including new markets tax credit (NMTC), historic rehabilitation tax credit (HTC) and opportunity zones incentive transactions. He has worked extensively on financial projections models and forecasts, financial statement audits and tax return preparation. He also advises on accounting, tax, transaction structuring, compliance and regulatory matters. He is also a frequent speaker at the firm’s NMTC and HTC conferences and pre-conference workshops. Mr. Chou has contributed articles to various publications, including the Novogradac Journal of Tax Credits. He received a bachelor’s degree in business administration with concentrations in accounting and finance from California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo. Mr. Chou is licensed in California as a certified public accountant.

The firm also promoted Rebecca Darling of the Atlanta office and Alvin Lee of the San Francisco office to partner.
